Useful Resources for RE Teachers

1. NATRE – for all teachers of RE / Lots of links, video examples of good teaching, support materials, links to twitter feed and online chats re RE issues http://www.natre.org.uk/

2. RE Today Services – largest UK provider of RE teaching resources / Teaching booklets on RE themes and different faiths and a good basic guide to RE for teachers. Termly magazine, annual Spirited Arts competition with galleries of pupils' previous work, access to 'mail-a-believer', conferences etc. http://www.retoday.org.uk/

3. RE online – working for excellence in RE / Huge amounts of background material on different religions, different pedagogies, resources for children. Access to further training on-line. http://www.reonline.org.uk/

4. REquest - supporting excellence in Christianity in RE / Specifically Christian resources for all key stages – video, interview and other background material. Very useful. http://request.org.uk/

Helen Matte, Suffolk SACRE chair Spring 2019

5. Articles of Faith – large provider of religious artefacts / Huge range of materials including both books and artefacts, which can be viewed online. Catalogue can also be sent and is useful and informative in own right. https://www.articlesoffaith.co.uk/

6. TTS Religion in Evidence – the other major supplier of artefacts / Large range of artefacts with emphasis on some storytelling materials and collections of artefacts belonging to a child of the faith. http://www.tts-group.co.uk/shops/tts/Catalogue/RE/

7. BBC bitesize clips for RE – always useful for lessons / Some very short clips – many only a minute or so to illustrate religious customs, practices and offer interviews with children of a faith. http://www.bbc.co.uk/education/subjects/

8. RE-Definitions – free app giving access to accurate, clear, resource-linked pronunciation and definition of 200+ key terms in seven religions and worldviews, and in the study of ethics and philosophy. Audio and Text. http://re-definitions.org.uk

REQM
RE Quality Mark

Recognising outstanding learning in religious education / REQM is a great resource for training staff and encouraging great RE in schools of all kinds. You can freely download useful self-assessment tools and pupil perception materials. If you wish to enter for the gold, silver or bronze awards, you pay for an assessor. This is a national recognised award for RE. http://www.reqm.org

Helen Matte, Suffolk SACRE chair Spring 2019