Parents/carers Thank you again for everything you truly have made such a difference to his life and ours. He's becoming such a happier boy. Thank you

Morning,

Sorry I was meant to respond to you last night, X had an amazing day yesterday and came home really happy, which was something I could only dream she would do 😊 I do just want to take the time to thank you Miss C, Miss K and all at the unit for making life so much better for X, it really is incredible what change it has made to our lives now she has the support she so needed. Also for giving us the time and building our trust up as I never thought I could trust any setting again 😁 Just incredible and I know you all will never truely know the difference you have all made to us. You're all amazing and this area is so very lucky to have such an incredible school 😍 I will probably keep saying this until she leaves 🙈🤣

X chatted with me about the dance lesson and she said the same she is nervous but is excited to have a chance to have dance with the mainstream class 😁 I think she will be ok, her confidence is good now and her emotional health is so good👍

Keep being amazing 😁

There has already been a massive improvement to T learning and behaviour and we hope that this continues into the new school year.

X has progressed a lot at this unit. They have a complete understanding of X and her needs. Which has impacted home life dramatically in a positive way….We have had no school refusal… The impact on X and our homelife is amazing and to see her happy and genuinely smile is the best progress she could have made as this reflects on her learning.

The staff we have met have been friendly and child focussed. The transition process has been welcoming with great communication. We would recommend the unit to anyone.

It looks like you have had a lovely week from the photos, also Z is coming home very happy & his confidence in reading is amazing. We're starting to see Z changing every day & would like to thank you all for supporting him.

It's made a massive impact on our child's life.

I just can’t believe the difference a setting can make…It’s really amazing!

P's progress has been huge. She can speak in proper sentences that are relevant to what is happening. P is a lot less emotional. She is happier now and can say how she feels.

You've made A want to come to school and more confident.

They all seem to have had a wonderful day .. Us parents can finally and hopefully breath a sigh of relief knowing our chil dren’s needs are being met finally and the chance to build so me beautiful friendships for them all xx

X had an amazing day and for the first time in 5 years she c ame out of school and told me about her day and what a great day it was 😁 thank you

What a relief it is to see him so happy after school instead of tears and begging to not be sent again. Can’t say thank you enough to everyone x

We are glad to see the school are excelling in meeting her needs and seem very child focused.

I thought it was a really beautifully written piece of work with exceptionally good use of language for her age. It was so lovely to see, especially as she often finds school work challenging. Thank you for everything you are doing with her.

Leah's current educational placement facilitates excellent universal strategies to support K's overall communication development, along with a high adult-pupil ratio and opportunity to provide support and practice time, linking in with the visiting Speech and Language Therapist. It is evident that this approach is beneficial to K's progress with her communication.

Thank you so much for that. He is so happy and loves going to school,!! (Finally) He has told be it's the best class ever too. I hope you have a lovely weekend

He has access to a setting which supports and encourages his communication and will allow him greater opportunity to develop towards the above outcomes (NHS Speech and Language Therapist).

'That's great 👍 He just said to me this morning, 'mummy, I think I am going to miss school tomorrow' I said to him isn't that wonderful how much you like school now? He smiled. Dreams come true right there! Wouldn't be a lot to some, but to me, that's all I want! Thank you to you all 😊'
